Preface to the Issue

Times are changing so fast and so dramatically, that even the publication of the last Newsletter, seems so far in the past. This quarter's issue of Publication cell is written in light of the long-awaited offline transition. This undertone is present in the amalgamation of offline and online events in this issue of the newsletter.

Despite the brief transition, life at IIM Bodh Gaya has been busy as ever. The highlight of this issue is unequivocally the convocation of the MBA 06 batch. This period was filled with anticipation regarding the arrival of the new MBA 08 batch.

This issue especially stands out and more so during the compilation as it kicks off the cusp of returning back to normalcy, having the pandemic in hindsight. The process of compiling this issue was filled with hope and a belief that no matter the past, resilience is the only true virtue that stands the test of time. We hope this undertone of hope trickles down to the reader of this issue.

Hasta La Vista is just one more example of how the iim Bodh gaya cultural committee consistently outdoes itself. When the class responded positively, showing signs of excitement and happiness, the committee knew their efforts had paid off and they were motivated to plan more fun events for the students in the future.

Hasta La Vista

The first batch of IPM students at IIM Bodh Gaya celebrated their successful completion of the first year of the programme with a celebration titled Hasta La Vista. An event planned by the IIMBG (IPM) Cultural Committee served to unite the batch, prompt introspection over their first year of college, and provide an outlet for creative expression and good times in front of their peers.

Wonderful food and dance were served, in addition to title presentations by students, lively performances, an open mic for audience participation, and more. This was a wonderful way to cap off their first year of college experience and was certainly one of their most memorable nights.
